Articles: a/an/the

Using Articles

- An article is an adjective. Like adjectives, articles modify nouns.
- English has two articles: the and a/an. The is used to refer to specific or particular nouns; a/an is used to modify non-specific or non-particular nouns.
- We call the the definite article and alan the indefinite article.
 - the = definite article
 - a/an = indefinite article
- For example, if I say, "Let's read the book," I mean a specific book. If I say, "Let's read a book," I mean any book rather than a specific book.

Here's another way to explain it:

The is used to refer to a specific or particular member of a group. For example, "I just saw the most popular movie of the year." There are many movies, but only one particular movie is the most popular. Therefore, we use the.

A/an" is used to refer to a non-specific or non-particular member of the group. For example, "I would like to go see a movie." Here, we're not talking about a specific movie. We're talking about any movie. There are many movies, and I want to see any movie. I don't have a specific one in mind.

Normally, we use a/an to refer to something for the first time. For example, "We went to a museum in Hyderabad. We ate at the museum too".

Indefinite Articles: a and an

"A" and "an" signal that the noun modified is indefinite, referring to any member of a group.

For example:

- "My daughter really wants a dog for Christmas." This refers to any dog. We don't know which dog because we haven't found the dog yet.
- "Somebody call a policeman!" This refers to any policeman. We don't need a specific policeman; we need any policeman who is available.
 - "When I was at the zoo, I saw an elephant!" Here, we're talking about a single, non-specific thing, in this case an elephant. There are probably several elephants at the zoo, but there's only one we're talking about here.

Remember, using a or an depends on the sound that begins the next word. So...

- a + singular noun beginning with a consonant: a boy;
 a car; a bike; a zoo; a dog
- an + singular noun beginning with a vowel: an elephant; an egg; an apple; an idiot; an orphan
- a + singular noun beginning with a consonant sound:
 a user (sounds like 'yoo-zer,' i.e. begins with a consonant 'y' sound, so 'a' is used);
 a university;
 a university;
- Remember that this rule also applies when you use acronyms:
 - Introductory Composition at Purdue (ICaP) handles first-year writing at the University. Therefore, an ICaP memo generally discusses issues concerning English 106 instructors.

- If the noun is modified by an adjective, the choice between a and an depends on the initial sound of the adjective that immediately follows the article:
 - a broken egg
 - an unusual problem
 - a European country (sounds like 'yer-o-pi-an,' i.e. begins with consonant /j/ sound)
- Remember, too, that in English, the indefinite articles are used to indicate membership in a group:
 - I am a teacher. (I am a member of a large group known as teachers.)
 - Brian is an Irishman. (Brian is a member of the people known as Irish.)
 - Premal is a practicing Buddhist. (Premal is a member of the group of people known as Buddhists.)

Definite Article: the

- The definite article is used before singular and plural nouns when the noun is specific or particular. The signals that the noun is definite, that it refers to a particular member of a group. For example:
- "The dog that bit me ran away." Here, we're talking about a specific dog, the dog that bit me.
- "I was happy to see the policeman who saved my cat!" Here, we're talking about a particular policeman. Even if we don't know the policeman's name, it's still a particular policeman because it is the one who saved the cat.
- "I saw the elephant at the zoo." Here, we're talking about a specific noun. Probably there is only one elephant at the zoo.

Countable and Noncountable Nouns

- The can be used with noncount nouns, or the article can be omitted entirely.
 - "I love to sail over the water" (some specific body of water) or "I love to sail over water" (any water).
 - "He spilled the milk all over the floor" (some specific milk, perhaps the milk you bought earlier that day) or "He spilled milk all over the floor" (any milk).
- "A/an" can be used only with count nouns.
 - "I need a bottle of water."
 - "I need a new glass of milk."
- Most of the time, you can't say, "She wants a water," unless you're implying, say, a bottle of water.
